	Appro	ved For Re 25X	le ase 2003/12/04	: CIA-RDP8	0-00926Å00	4900040012-3
		. 23/	CONFIDEN	TTAL.		**
- Albertage		25X			- 1545
	100		CENTRAL INTELLI		6 . 5
		IN	IFORMATIO	N REP	DRT
COUNTRY C	hina				25X1			*
SUBJECT P	Port Data -	Dairen
	 				1.3			200
			25X1
						DATE DISTR.	MAY 52
							•
	THIS DOCUMENT	CONTAINS INFORMA	TION AFFECTING THE NATION	L DEFENSE		NO. OF PAGES	5
	AND TOA OF TH	E U.S. CODE, AS	EMEANING OF TITLE 18. SE AMENDED. ITS TRANSMISSIO ECEIPT BY AN UNAUTHORIZED	OR REVE-		NO. OF ENCLS	. 1
	PROHIBITED BY	LAW. THE REPRODU	CTION OF THIS REPORT IS P	OHIBITED.	OEV4	SUPP. TO
!	THIS	IS UNEVALU	JATED INFORMATI	ON	25X1	REPORT NO.	9
								1
* 1.	"General. '	The ship a	rrived at Dair	en in ball	ast		loaded	-
25X1	The second secon		ousand (10,000) he to the fact	tonel		The vessel'	s stay in mmediately
20/1	Dairen was available.	derayed do	le to the fact					]
25X1 [
25X1 L					. 3	340
25X1 ,	Navigationa	l Aids.				Two lighted	buovs	] .
25X1			between the nor	thern brea	kwater an	d the east bre	akwater.	_
25X1 25X1 <sub>г</sub>	(See figure	s l and 2	of enclosure.)					.
25X1	*	-				1 of the shi	in at the
25X1 <sub>3</sub> , 25X1°	Academoted.	anchorage	for the Port of		le:
25X1		+1 1 a+	and official bely thirty Chir	carding pa	rty. The	boarding part	ty con- the
25X1	00	when and to	menturfive Vesi	s or age v	TON ONE C	ACCDOTON OF 101	ne older
25X1	Chinese cus	toms off	cial who during	the ccurs	iced para	vounger member	of the
25X1				am APPICIS	IIS. AT T	ne anchorage o	CATC A 2 D
	sel and cre	w were gi	ven immigration	and cusus	included	the sealing	of all
			re also started personal radio ipment, modific ment. All	the make	of the equipment	t by board	ling offic	ials. The pi	lot after
1 ,					* × -			^
			-71		_	34.		2
			25X1		]			7
				ENTIAL
DISTRIBUTION	→ STATE	ARMY	25X1 X NAVY X	AIR	∀ FBI
DISTRIBUTION	- 10.00 C		:		41,7

ر ا	CONFIDENTÍAL		V
y		-2-
1 [	being granted preliminary  The ship handling with the minimum amount of minimum of fourteen cargo lists, and ten lists of a thirty Chinese officials to understand English.	ng by the pilot ar of effort. The Co o manifests, ten co arms aboard the ve	nd along documentation was recorded to the contract of the con	tkside was completed to supplete provision are the twenty-five t	eted Ly a id store
1 1 1	"Port Facilities and Methods the piers, wharves and wo observed ten to twelve on tons. On wharf (A), were being operated during cranes are electrically (B) and (C) no cranes or warehouses in the visini	ranes each with ar  ng the stay of the operated. On pier heavy rolling sto	n good condinestimated six similars two, three observed were observed in the approximation of	capacity of two lar type crames v port. te and four and v served teared filled to	to thre which the wharves the
Total	capacity. All docks are of each warehouse. warehouses have not been their occupation. constructed or rebuilt a enclosure). This build: port facilities of Daire; in the area were require; and from the dock area;	attered since being appeared to be a to pass through and apparently all	ng built by one built by one built by the central	the Japanese durilding has been a see figure 3 of i control point of this all em	and ring newly of the playees oming to
5. 	position of spur tracks was of old vintage, cons	the wharves, and the wharves, and the standard gauge. engines and rolling and more than the religion of the standard the religions.	including the stock in the stoc	or about the picacourage. See a seing disease and coal surners and	er. The enclosus ne piers d grain as follows: The grain carelease which moves ver the dar. This panel relicar. The informant belithe British. The engine coal barner similar to to Japanese.	tically thereby a ease is located a eved these grain o	llowing the pproximatel cars are si	y in the center of the milar to those uppeared to be an	of the sed by old
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	× · · · •
	·	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	25X1
	CONFIDENTIAL	• * =

Approved For Release 2003/12/04 : CIA-RDP80-26926A004900040012-3

Approved For Release 2003/12/04 : CIA-RDP80-00926A004900040012-3

Although no new construction was observed underway the yard, old Russian and/or Chinese passenger cargo vessels were being repaired or reconverted, and the shipyards appeared operative both day and night.  repair work was being done to a British liberty type vessel an old Chinese freighter estimated of two thouse ton was being converted to a passenger of troop ship.  all the Russian and Chinese vessels being converted or repaired in the port of Dairen were old models.	Approved For	Release 2003/12/04 : Cl	A-RDP80-002526A00490	0040012-3
"Security. Each and every ship appeared to be guarded day and night by Chinese soldiers. These guards appeared healthy and well equipped with the exception of their small arms. The small arms appeared to be old model rifles and pistols.  Although no new construction was observed underway the yard,  appeared operative being repaired or reconverted, and the shipyards appeared operative both day and night.  repair work was being done to a British liberty type vessel an old Chinese freighter estimated of two thouse ton was being converted to a passenger of troop ship.  all the Russian and Chinese vessels being converted or repaired in the port of Dairen were old models.  "Other Shipping.  up along side piers one through four. (See enclosure: dock area.) These ships were flying the flags  listed in paragraph 6 above). There were numerous small craft observed during the stay in the port but these were	CONFID	INTIAL
"Security. Each and every ship appeared to be guarded day and night by Chinese soldiers. These guards appeared healthy and well equipped with the exception of their small arms. The small arms appeared to be old model rifles and pistols.  Although no new construction was observed underway the yard,  Old Russian and/or Chinese passenger cargo vessels were being repaired or reconverted, and the shipyards appeared operative both day and night.  repair work was being done to a British liberty type vessel an old Chinese freighter estimated of two thouse ton was being converted to a passenger of troop ship.  all the Russian and Chinese vessels being converted or repaired in the port of Dairen were old models.  "Other Shipping.  up along side piers one through four. (See enclosure: dock area.) These ships were flying the flags  listed in paragraph 6 above). There were numerous small craft observed during the stay in the port but these were		· -3
Chinese soldiers. These guards appeared healthy and well equipped with the exception of their small arms. The small arms appeared to be old model rifles and pistols.  Whippards.  Although no new construction was observed underway the yard,  Cargo vessels were being repaired or reconverted, and the shippards appeared operative both day and night.  The area of the shippards and of the shippards appeared operative both day and night.  In an old Chinese freighter estimated of two thouse ton was being converted to a passenger of troop ship.  In all the Russian and Chinese vessels being converted or repaired in the port of Dairen were old models.  "Other Shipping.  Chinese vessels being converted or about fifteen liberty type ships up along side piers one through four. (See enclosure: dock area.) These ships were flying the flags  Chinese vessels being converted or instance of the paragraph of above. There were numerous small craft observed during the stay in the port but these were		*
Although no new construction was observed underway the yard, old Russian and/or Chinese passenger cargo vessels were being repaired or reconverted, and the shipyards appeared operative both day and night.  repair work was being done to a British liberty type vessel an old Chinese freighter estimated of two thous ton was being converted to a passenger of troop ship.  all the Russian and Chinese vessels being converted or repaired in the port of Dairen were old models.  "Other Shipping. about fifteen liberty type ships up along side piers one through four. (See enclosure: dock area.) Thes ships were flying the flags  listed in paragraph 6 above). There were numerous small craft observed during the stay in the port but these were	Chinese soldiers. exception of their	These guards appear small arms. The s	red healthy and well	llequipped with t
the yard, old Russian and/or Chinese passenger cargo vessels were being repaired or reconverted, and the shipyards appeared operative both day and night.  repair work was being done to a British liberty type vessel an old Chinese freighter estimated of two thous ton was being converted to a passenger of troop ship.  all the Russian and Chinese vessels being converted or repaired in the port of Dairen were old models.  "Other Shipping. about fifteen liberty type ships up along side piers one through four. (See enclosure: dock area.) Thes ships were flying the flags  listed in paragraph 6 above). There were numerous small craft observed during the stay in the port but these were	"Shipyards.		A) 4
"Factories and other Installations. on the nor side of the harbor numerous factories which appeared to be wo	appeared operative repair work was be ton was being conceptant of the period of the shipping. In the period of the ships were flying numerous small error primarily junks at side of the harboness.	being repaired or both day and night ing done to a Briti an old Chin verted to a passenge all the Russian an ort of Dairen were o  rs one through four. the flags liste aft observed during nd little launches.  her Installations.	old Russian and/or or reconverted, and seconverted, and shall be seen freighter estimate of troop ship. Shall models.  about fifteen 1: (See enclosure: of the stay in the portion of the stay in the portion of the stay in t	chinese passenger the shipyards  sel ated of two thouse eing converted or iberty type ships dock area.) These ove). There were t but these were on the no
			•
ing day and night.			(See figure 4	, enclosure.)
ing day and night.
(See figure 4, enclosure.)	identified from h the a were numerous and bility of an air	ts of two motored, p is description as be eroplanes had red st regular and lift between unknown day and night. The	ing similar to our ar insignia on the destinations and Definitions and Definition ind	C-47. [ wings. These fli ]indicates a poss airen. Air traff
"Air Traffic Observed.  The flights of two motored, propellor driven aircraft tentatively identified from his description as being similar to our C-47.  The aeroplanes had red star insignia on the wings. These flights of an air lift between unknown destinations and Dairen. Air traff was observed both day and night. The flight pattern indicated that the	7	200
"Air Traffic Observed.    Flights of two motored, propellor driven aircraft tentatively identified from his description as being similar to our C-47.    The aeroplanes had red star insignia on the Wings. These fliwere numerous and regular and indicates a possibility of an air lift between unknown destinations and Dairen. Air traff was observed both day and night. The flight pattern indicated that the planes were probably using the Chou-Shui air base.	"Military. In th	e vicinity of pier 3	(see figure 8 and tich appeared to be	9, enclosure), used for athletic
"Air Traffic Observed.    flights of two motored, propellor driven aircraft tentatively identified from his description as being similar to our C-47.    the aeroplanes had red star insignia on the wings. These fliwers numerous and regular and indicates a possibility of an air lift between unknown destinations and Dairen. Air traff was observed both day and night. The flight pattern indicated that the planes were probably using the Chou-Shui air base.		, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,		•
"Air Traffic Observed.    flights of two motored, propellor driven aircraft tentatively identified from his description as being similar to our C-47.    the aeroplanes had red star insignia on the wings. These fliwers numerous and regular and indicates a possibility of an air lift between unknown destinations and Dairen. Air traff was observed both day and night. The flight pattern indicated that the planes were probably using the Chou-Shui air base.
"Air Traffic Observed.    flights of two motored, propellor driven aircraft tentatively identified from his description as being similar to our C-17.   the aeroplanes had red star insignia on the wings. These flights of an air lift between unknown destinations and Dairen. Air traff was observed both day and night. The flight pattern indicated that the planes were probably using the Chou-Shui air base.    Military. In the vicinity of pier 3 (see figure 8 and 9, enclosure), two fields which appeared to be used for athletic
"Military. In the vicinity of pier 3 (see figure 8 and 9, enclosure),  "Military. In the vicinity of pier 3 (see figure 8 and 9, enclosure),  two fields which appeared to be used for athletic		mats in	25X1	v 1 2 2 2
Air Traffic Observed.    See figure 4, enclosure.)			25X1	* 17" - 7

	CONFIDENTIAL
20. 004
	ship's officers and crew until proper application had been submitted to the port authorities. At the request of port authorities, the Captain completed the required forms for a liberty party, however, no official approval for going ashore was granted to members of the crew. On several occasions the Captain was asked by port authorities why his crew members did not go ashore, and he in turn informed these officials that he had not been notified that they were allowed to go ashore. On several occasions he resubmitted his applications but permission was never officially granted. It was observed however, that bribes such as small presents could be used as a means of getting ashore. On several occasions a Chinese guard was bribed with gifts of food, cigarettes and coffee. The guard would then allow crew members to stroll up and down the pier alongside the ship at night. On one occasion a gift of a cheap, used leather wrist band was sufficient to allow a crew member to go ashore in an attempt to visit a friend aboard another vessel. This attempt however, was unsuccessful when a guard
Åe.	prevented the man from going aboard his friend's ship. As a result the crew member was returned to his vessel and warned not to attempt any such foolish action again. It is not known what disciplinary action was taken against the sentry who appeared frightened and stated that if he allowed anyone ashore again he would probably be shot.
21.	"Breakwater East of Pier 1no new construction in this area and that no breakwater exists
] 1 →	no activity in the Jijiko area.
22.	"Attempts to bring Communist Propaganda aboard the Vessel. The Captain of
22.	Accembos of bring Commentation Indicates
4 2 .	the ship, prior to his arrival in Dairen, spoke to the crew of his vessel
3/2.	the ship, prior to his arrival in Dairen, spoke to the crew of his vessel and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communis
82. 1 2 1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistiterature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistic to members of the crew. During the vessel's stey in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but
	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no
#	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda
and the second s	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stey in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no
- 2	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
- 2	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
right.	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
right.	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
right.	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistification to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant.
	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."  -end-and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistifierature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain', but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."  -end-
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communistified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."  -end-
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communis literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant.
	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communis literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communisticative to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was prought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant.
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."  -end-and slerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communicative to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was prought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."  -end-
1	and alerted them to possible attempts to propagandize or distribute Communist literature to members of the crew. During the vessel's stay in port an unidentified man and woman came aboard the ship and requested the Captain's permission to speak to the crew. Permission was granted by the Captain, but the crew was not receptive to the Communist discussion. No Communist literature was brought aboard and no further attempt was made by the Communists to visit the ship for propaganda purposes to the knowledge of the informant."  -end-

